Website Content Generation

In order to keep the youth informed about issues affecting the country as well as give people information about basic issues like how to register to vote and so on, we need volunteers who will help update the content on our website. This will involve writing regular blog posts, articles on current events, and conducting research for our 'KnowThis' section.

A Volunteer will need to:

- Do regular research on current affairs, apart from just keeping up with the news.
- Write blogs and articles.
- Give his or her opinion and at times write both for and against an issue
- Update general content on the website as when asked, by to a given deadline.

What we require of volunteers:

- Excellent writing skills.
- An interest in current affairs; especially political, economic and social issues.
- To take initiative and find interesting topics on one's own, apart from just writing about topics assigned by us.
